Campaign Finance Information

A candidate must file a Statement of Organization not later than three business days of first receiving a contribution or making an expenditure and no later than the deadline for filing a nominating petition, declaration of candidacy, or certificate of nomination, whichever occurs first, unless they meet the criteria for an exemption. To meet the criteria, the candidate must serve as their own treasurer, not have an existing candidate committee, and not expect to spend or receive more than $1,500 during the entire calendar year (including in-kind contributions and personal funds).

If you have an existing candidate committee you must amend the statement of organization not later than 10 days after a change in information. This includes changes to the election you are active in and the office you are running for.

See the Campaign Finance Manual for the procedural and legal requirements of establishing and maintaining a candidate committee.

Residence Address Exemption

To exempt your residence address from public disclosure, complete form SEL 180 – Residence Address Exemption Request. The request for a Residence Address Exemption MUST include a publicly disclosable mailing address. See the Candidates Manual for further information.

I don't want my residence address to be disclosed. I will be filing a separate SEL 180 – Residence Address Exemption Request.

Work History and Background

Twenty-two years ago, I got my first job working at the Lazerquick Corporate headquarters in Wilsonville, OR. I spent three afternoons a week reconciling the accounts payable deposits for the bookkeeper. I feel very lucky to have been given that opportunity in high school. It gave me an early advantage in understanding corporate bookkeeping, profit and loss, and budgeting.

The next position I held was as a hostess at a local pub. I quickly learned the ins and outs of the industry and was promoted into a server position a few weeks after starting. I stayed at the restaurant for a couple of years before resigning, then moved back into bookkeeping and administration.

I spent 4 years working in an administrative role for a multimillion-dollar IQF food importer, also in Wilsonville, OR. My duties were multifaceted and included responsibilities in reception, bookkeeping, logistics, and human resources. The time I spent there was vital to my understanding of profits and loss, employee relations, budgeting, and payroll. I also learned a lot about myself; the most significant being that working in a fast-paced environment with a lot of people interaction was much better suited for me than administration. I left the company and used my combined experiences to go into restaurant management. I spent a few years running a 10,000 square foot restaurant and family entertainment center in Lake Oswego before my family relocated to the Silverton area.

Silverton is my husband's home town, and we relocated in tandem with he and his business partner expanding their restaurant businesses in and around the area. I had resigned from my position in Lake Oswego and stayed home with my children for a couple years during this time.

When I decided to re-enter the work force, I landed at Langdon Farms Golf Club. I was there for seven years serving in both Golf Operations and Restaurant Management roles. Two years ago, I made the decision to resign my post and leave the service world behind.

The most rewarding aspect of the various roles I have held throughout the years has been managing and mentoring the young adults who have found themselves as members of my teams. Guiding them through their first jobs and watching them move onto their careers has been the most rewarding part of my time. This realization led me to seek a position with a school district, where every day could dedicate myself to serving young adults in a full-time capacity. I was very thankful to land in the Mount Angel District. I now work as a Special Education Assistant at John F Kennedy High School.

I believe that although my career path has had some curves and changes, it makes me uniquely qualified to serve on the Silver Falls School board. I have experience in business, budgeting, and management, but I also understand the general operations of public school and the experiences of students and teachers. It would be my honor to serve the community as a member of the board if elected to do so.
